

ENGAUSA Start-up Friday

One of the sole objectives of establishing ENGAUSA GLOBAL TECH HUB is to address the high rate of unemployment in our society and inspire a skill-based learning process that will help people to be employers of labor. By re-orienting people's mindset through vocational skills training, we have so far recorded success in nurturing our graduates to establish their start-ups.

Start-up Friday is a roundtable discussion and diffusion of ideas in which newly established or potential start-ups are mentored entrepreneur-wise. Through our graduate database, we track and monitor our graduates and further provide mentorship and support when necessary.

Our number one goal is to make sure that whoever passed through our pieces of training should develop an interest in changing the narratives of our society through the application of digital technology to provide fit-for-purpose solutions while providing an ocean of opportunities.
